When the user clicks on Add To Cart for any of these items, there are no observable changes. 	Same Image Displayed for Each Item	2 July, 2025	Medium	In Progress	Visual	Major	Sauce Demo	All items on the Swag Labs product list located on the All Items page show the same image with a dog holding a tennis ball in its mouth. The images do not correctly represent the products that are being listed which makes it confusing to users. The images are inconsistent with the item being listed. What is shown in the pictures should represent the respective item accurately. The expected result would be for the picture next to each item to display the item accurately. The actual result is that each item listed displays the same image of a dog holding a ball which is irrelevant to the items.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1.
